power (chief minister, prime minister)

Fame & Name

I want to have a good husband to whom I love and sweet children in my future life.

I want to have kids playing around me all the time and I can spend as much time with them as possible.

Childhood days of carefree life when I could go about cycling on the streets, play hide and seek, run with friends.

3. What is the one thing you would want to change in yourself?

I always think what others feel about me if I do that job or if I did not do it.
My ego.

My attitude towards beginning each day right. "Your day is as good as you make it".

Discipline, honesty

I think I get impatient very often that I want to change.

My size. I am very fat

I take time for most of my decisions and in my decisions I need somebody's help always that I want to change, and I want to add some more knowledge and leadership capabilities to myself.

I want to loose 10 kilos of weight, be regular on exercises and avoidfulthy food, don't procrastinate.

4. What kind of person you would fall in love with?

I will not fall in love with any person because I do not have attachment towards any person. I will never feel the sense that I have missed somebody.

Somebody who is caring ,loving, naive, respect people around her, friendly, if not hot she should at least be pretty and most importantly good character.

A person who will accept me as I am (with all my flaws) and who will know me more that my own self.

A person who understands me and can adjust with me.

A person who has is simple, can express emotions & feelings and also understands others feelings & emotions.

One, who cares me, who loves me and cares about my and his family. Help me whenever I need. Who is confidante and understanding, he should have respect for me. Who likes travelling, going out. Who can take his own decisions. Who can maintain a good relationship with his relatives and friends. A full fun loving person.

One who loves emotion, respect others feelings and is flexible in her approach towards her life and career.

Caring, one who has respect for me and who is truth worthy

5. Do you wish to love someone for the rest of your life?

NO

No. it is not possible with me because I do not have attachment towards anybody. I am a hard hearted person.

Yes.

Yes I would. But have not found that some one in life.

Yeah, I wish to love my parents all throughout my life because they love me a lot.

Yes, I wish to love my husband and my children for the rest of my life. (At present I am single).

Yes I do because Gods love flows in and through me. Give love today to others, and to your family. Love God above all...and He will see to it that you have sufficient love, and give you more in return than you can ever give away.

Yes all my life

6. What is the kind of person you would want to be in ten years?

I want to be a kind of person who helps every body and a person every body likes to be with.

Good and successful person in any field i am in.

Well settled in life and have a wonderful family around me.

10 years from now I want to be very much like me.

A successful son completing most of my responsibilities towards my parents

Healthy, with sufficient money, not too mutch not too less, to lead a contented life, hading an enterprise of my own, and be a more spiritual person.

In my professional life, I want to be a good technical leader and want to acquire good knowledge in my related fields. In my personal life, I want to be a good wife, good MOM and good daughter-in-law (Good daughter!! I know, I am)

At home, A dad surrounded by 2 owned kids and at work want to be the owner of a famous restaurant.

7. What do you wish for your future?

A simple, cool decent life with my family and friends.

I wish I would be a very rich person in future.

I wish that it will fall in line with Gods divine plan for me.

To have a successful company

To be successful & to be able to teach people all that I know.

I want a peaceful future. I want a family where everybody loves and cares for each other. I want to earn more so that I can give a happy life to my family and also I want to travel all around the world, all beautiful places.

Education for a master degree, a lovely family, a prospereous carreeer, be closer to god

8. Can you describe you when you will be old?

When I will be old I would become more like a kid who always expects attention and company of his known ones around him.

Old get young at heart. Active cheerful happy with family engaged in activities of social interest perhaps

I would be a kind of person from whom every body will have something to learn.

A lazy goon sitting on a massage chair and watching some sports channel or catching up on all the news happening around the world.

When I am old I will be more vibrant and still accomplishing God's purpose in my life.

Yes will be healthy and happy with my family.

I would still be charming and stylish. Independent & Master of myself.

Ya, giving advice to my children and grand children, playing with them, visiting different places with my husband and doing makeup as usual to look good, giving importance to new fashion

9. Can you wish something, which is not possible in our real world? Describe it.

I wish all those things happen that I think about in my mind. For example I think that some person come to my house and listen to what I say.

Every single person in this world should get 3 square meals of nutritious food everyday. If this happens there would be no deaths due hunger or starvation, the problem of malnutrition will also be solved.

I wish to be a flower. To bring a smile on a person, though just for a moment.

To have some much money that i can buy anything i wish.

I wish we could have penguins where there is no ice.

I think, not being selfish is something which is not possible in our real world because somehow or the other you think about yourself more than others.

Only happiness everywhere, is not possible. As this world is created by God, he made joy as well as sorrows to balance the world, without one, world can't be balanced and if sorrow is not there then how we know importance of happiness.

That the politicians work for the benefit of the public, that a person can get justice within a year in a court. That children have not to carry huge luggage to school to study, That their only go to school to play and learn their subject of interest, That the women can walk safely on the streets at any times, without being sexually assaulted, and that we have more lakes, ponds, greenery in the city and less of multiplexes and no traffic jams.

10. What would you wish to change in your parents / family?

I want my parents to love their children and care for them. I want them to have some attachment towards their children. I want my family to think with a broad mind.

Nothing

Culture, selfishness and blindness to see what is right and just.

Way of doing business

My parents are very nice, I am lucky that I got them. They gave me whatever I desire from them but at some points they think about their society instead of thinking their children. If the thing is right then also they wouldn't accept it if society doesn't accept. They still believe in castism. This thing I want to change in them.

I would want my family to think about themselves rather than others all the time.

I think society always gives importance to their cast mainly in India. For any kind of progress, education, jobs, development and marriage, they can't think beyond their cast. That's wrong!!

My parents belongs to a little bit orthodox society, they love me a lot but still they find themselves very helpless in going against orthodox society. Even they know that they should change with time but they can't, thinking about society compulsion.

I wish may parents never changed, they are splendid.

11. What do you think is wrong in the society?

Most of the facilities that are provided are being misused .It should be stopped.

1. Inequality (The rich are getting richer and poor are getting poor.)
2. Corruption
3. Sexual harassment and rape of women.
4. The judicial system is outdated and extremely slow(There is close to 800,000 cases pending in all courts in India)

My self to attain perfection.

Public Awareness

Hypocrisy

Now a days we are too much self centered, hardly someone takes interest in doing something good for others. Their life is confined form work to family. They are having no love for nature, poor and other parts of society. They don't want to take responsibility of serving mankind.

12. What do you wish to change?

Corruption & Bureaucracy

I wish to change illegal things and want everything to be legal in the society.

All the above, but in reality i think i can only bring down corruption by not giving any one a bribe to get any work done.

Public

I wish that terrorist activities and war should not happen in any part of the world. Because they kill innocent people, who never harmed them or anybody else.

I just want to change "I CAN'T DO" mentality of people coming around me because, if one would know his own potential to change the society then he would change the entire world. And if all of us would be having such an attitude, we can make our life like heaven and whole world would become a sweet family.

I wish that society assume responsibility of parks and trains and others public places keeping them as clean as their home, that women have much more public toilettes, specially when traveling, that men think the entire vacant place are public toilettes and that they control themselves and their habits.
