

Sixth sense

My name is Pradeep, 5 years before, I left my job.

I was working as an automobile engineer in a company, and I am dedicated fulltime as a professional instructor to spread this martial art, Taek Kwon Do.

I love this martial art more than my family, more than my wife and my children.

I don't know why. Because some words told by our Grand Master Leon Won Ming about Taek Kwon Do still remains in my mind .

I like to teach this martial art to all the children and to the mankind to keep the health in a good way and to build self-confidence among children and awareness of martial arts in people.

Like, today, I showed power breaking technique.

This power breaking technique is performed to build our confidence.

I don't use my physical strength. I use only my mental strength.

In Taek Kwon Do, we practice mentally as well as physically.

Today, I perform the power breaking techniques with my mental strength and not with my hands.

I use only my mental strength and my confidence because every time when I do power breaking techniques, my confidence becomes most on that and I believe in 6th sense.

You may be knowing about 6th sense.

Every time, before doing a technique, I imagine in my mind and my heart and I perform. So, I think I have succeeded in my Taek Kwon Do thinking in way of 6th sense.

Sixth sense is that - I cannot show my power on a real human being.

It may be destructive.

If I want to show my power on a real human being, he may die.

I use my power on bricks or tiles to show my power. So, before performing a power breaking technique, I imagine in my mind that I can break this and that I have already done this.

After that, I start doing that. So before giving it a kick, I imagine in my mind and in my heart and I perform the technique.

So, it will be successful. Up until now, I have not looked back for performing any breaking technique in Taek Kwon Do.

Definitely, 100%, it is true. Only thing is you have to try once.

You have to practice it.

Nothing is impossible in life.

Everything is possible.

Only thing is you have to make mind and you have to build your confidence, strong by using these power breaking techniques.

You have to practice it. You have to demonstrate in front of people so that you can develop your 6th sense, more stronger.

See, the sixth sense will not work out at all times.

I am telling - in Taek Kwon Do, when you are performing power breaking technique, when 5 to 6 people come and attack you at a time, you can use your sixth sense. You can defend all the six people.

Even though you may not be good in martial arts, if your 6th sense is good, according to my knowledge, you can defend yourself.

See my hands. If a normal person tries to break that 10 or 15 times, he may fracture his hand, but I am without any injury. So, even I am using some scientific techniques. Like, Newton's third law of motion – for every action, there is equal and opposite reaction.

So, for every action what I do, there will be equal and opposite. I use my power. The same amount of power returns back from breaking the tiles.

After breaking, I feel that I have succeeded something.

Still, I have to perform more.

Today, I broke 15 tiles. Tomorrow, I can break 20. Day after tomorrow, I can break 25. Then, 30, 40, and 50. So, each and every time, my confidence becomes more. I started with one, then 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. So, every time, it increases.

I don't know about others whether they have practiced or not, but for me, I think 6th sense has succeeded many times.

Once I was riding a bike. I felt that immediately I am going to fall. I fell down from the bike. It has happened 2-3 times.

So, after that, I started riding my bike. So, every time when I ride the bike, I think that today I will not fall. I will not crash to any vehicle. I will not touch any vehicle.

So, it has worked up until now. So, every time, when I take my bike or some other thing to ride, before starting a bike, I think that I will not fall today.

I will not hit or crash to any other vehicle. So, I have succeeded in that. So, it has helped me many times, but whenever I think this cannot happen, it has never happened.

Suppose, if am going for an interview to start a school, I imagine before whether I can do this or not.

If I think I cannot start the school, it is not possible. I never succeed in that. It comes in my mind always by seeing the face of a person or by seeing a student, the student can do or can never do. It has happened always like that.

Definitely if I visualize that I succeed, I will succeed.. Many times. 99%, it has been succeeded.

Yes, 6th sense can work for love.
